

The Travels & Evolution of Thasunda Brown Duckett

Since every last one of us has dreams & ambitions to secure our financial futures, allow me to introduce you to Thasunda Brown Duckett, whom is a black woman widely recognized as a leading executive in the financial industry.

As a black woman, Mrs. Duckett grind & footprints are arguably just as historic as now Vice President-elect of the United States, Kamala Harris. Mrs. Duckett is just in a different lane, the financial industry.

Now, Mrs. Duckett oversees a banking network with more than $600 billion in deposits, 5K plus branches, 16K plus ATM's & 50K plus employees serving 25M households worldwide.

UNDER THASUNDA BROWN DUCKETT LEADERSHIP AT JPMORGAN CHASE

1. Chase propelled to #1 in customer satisfaction by J.D. Power.
2. Chase propelled to #1 for its mobile app and #1 most visited among U.S. retail banks.
3. Her team is leading Chase's 1st major branch expansion in 10 years, which will add 400 branches in 20 new markets over 5 years.

Building on her passion for finance inclusion & empowerment, Duckett drives the bank's development of new tools, products, and thought leadership to build financial health & wealth for all customers.

Duckett is the Executive Sponsor of JPMorgan Chase's Advancing Black Pathway Program, aimed at helping black Americans close historical achievement gaps in wealth creation, educational outcome & career success.

She is also a member of the steering committee for JPMorgan Chase's woman on the move initiative to advance women in their careers and in business, and the executive sponsor of the firm's The Fellowship Initiative, which offers young men of color academic and social support to help them achieve personal & professional success.

Previously, Mrs. Duckett was the CEO of Chase Auto Finance, and prior to that served as National Retail Sales Executive for Chase Mortgage Banking.

In 2019:

- She was named one of Fortune's most powerful "Woman to Watch."
- American Banker magazine named Duckett the 7th most powerful women in banking.
- She was also named to Black Enterprise magazine's most powerful women in Corporate America List.
- Previously, Duckett was named a "Top 100 Leading Female Executive" by Automotive News and as one of the most influential black executives in corporate America by Savoy magazine.

Duckett, founded Rosie and Otis Brown Foundation, in honor of her parents, to recognize & reward people who use ordinary means to empower & uplift their communities in extraordinary ways.

Duckett was also among 16 women who inspired LeBron James 1st shoe for women, the HFR x LeBron 16. The shoe was designed to honor the unsung, strong women who influenced James life as an athlete, philanthropist & entrepreneur.

From Texas, Duckett holds a Bachelor's degree in Finance and Marketing from the University of Houston, and an MBA from Baylor University.

In 2019, Duckett was appointed to NIKE, Inc. Board of Directors, as well as the Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Organization.

She is also a member of the Executive Leadership Council, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and Jack and Jill of America, Inc.

In addition, she sits on the Board of the Children's Learning Center of Fairfax county.

Just like the Vice President-elect of the United States, Kamala Harris, especially as a black woman, Mrs. Duckett is just as much an inspiration as anyone regardless your race or cultures especially for females.

Mrs. Thasunda Brown Duckett you are truly a definition of open your eyes. The Oyez22 family appreciates you & welcomes you.

Written (12/27/20) By Clifton A. Jackson

Your likes, follows, shares, repost of link, tags, and hashtags are sincerely appreciated.

Oyez22

