

The Dreamer in You

Dreams are cruises destined for calm waters offshore anchoring hundred forty footers just skiing and scuba diving at depths of a hundred and a quarter – life's bumps and cruises are all in line with a come up as the Earth rotates the sun will set slightly shifting evolving with one mission preparing to come up – see success requires us to hurdle billions of objects I once heard a wise man say "We can all choose to be great but we cannot choose the process" – dam in the interim the lavish life be constantly calling that's why I grind full throttle pulling all nighters chasing a quotas quota constantly clawing –

I've been accused of conspiracy's and pure crazy misunderstood one of the riches broke man ever focused Oyezxx trying not to let nothing persuade me –

I was down bad when the thought of Oyezxx was born mentally I switched baggies and the product for people tired of being treated like the children of the corn – with emphasis were done chasing necessities no more conforming to propaganda counterproductive schemes and recipes – be it success stories, setbacks or failures your experiences are yours in this naval world of submarines and battleships protecting a fleet of carriers –

Google me the portraits are unjustifiably inaccurate I'm just a loan buffalo in a society of starving lions chasing America's dreams like America's malpractices – for years I missed my kids without a visit in the eye of the storm although double teamed and livid I never panicked no did I move my pivot – like Diddy at the Barclay what a reunion memories of Biggie and the Fam mirrors the definitions of a saints and any like influences – so despite your handles or the movements you choose the Earth is majority water so we can change courses anytime to introduce the world to the dreamer in you –

Setbacks and failures are only highlights for our come ups. If there are any questions or nonbelievers, just study the life and career of Sean Combs.
