

The Resurrection is Real

When I speak of the resurrection theirs no comparison or disrespect intended to Christians or Jesus Christ in today's society all to many are spiritually rich however the desires to succeed has illuminated a satanic flight – so we search for diamonds, gold and untapped natural resources relatives to corruption, conspiracies and greed in this hellish world a revolving door of predators engaging with mental or hypodermic injections of various evils with needles or thoughts that are everything but sterile – the double standards of our society are clearly before us the elusion alleging laws and structure controls chaos however money solidifies its relations and their worth like life and limb, emergency rooms and triage – it's clear the political norms were no match for Trump I'm talking power manipulating more than a campaign many believed the distasteful tactics are beyond belief to even the Republicans who expressed unacceptable levels and distain – in fear of insubordinate behaviors Republicans are alleging unity and force clearly another smack in the face confirming we're off course which ultimately confirms what one will or won't do to protect careers, relations and power to navigate a Porsche – you see the specks in my eyes like I see the planks in yours so how can anyone judge for chasing the American dream when we're all trying to avoid any catastrophic effects while walking through life's high pressured steams – our resiliency confirms no one not even us can keep us down coming from the mud that's the only way to feel regardless our strengths, struggles or classes of life we will rise you better believe the resurrection is real –
